Hi Bill - I only got through page 43 (I'm still at work). I think it looks really good, my comments are only typos and I guess a couple small suggestions. I'll try to get through the rest sometime tomorrow. (I only scanned the pages with the corrections - look at the whole page).

- I am checking to make sure the Table of Contents lines up (correct pages with subject), but I am not going to check the references: that you got them all and that there are no typos. I just don't have time. I also didn't check to make sure the tables were numbered correctly although I was conscious of them and I think they're accurate.

thanks, good job -

see you Tuesday.
